WE PRESENT . . .

We, the yearbook staffs of nine United States Air Force high schools overseas, present this, our third edition of VAPOR TRAILS. We have combined our efforts to form not only a yearbook and a treasury of memories but also, figuratively speaking, a guided tour through the six countries and three continents — Europe, Asia, and Africa — on which our schools are located. In each of the nine sections of our book we show our school days in the host country which many of us have known as home for three years or more. You, as you turn these pages, will see that no matter whether palm or plane trees, gilded domes or thatched cottages comprise a part of each school's background, the pupils of all nine are united by attending American schools outside their native land.

Our pictures, stories, and art work of classroom scenes and school events emphasize the similarity of our lives with those of our counterparts in the United States. We study English, French, algebra, and chemistry; we learn world geography, history, and American government; we try-out for plays, teams, and cheerleading; we join clubs, sing in choruses, help with carnivals, laugh with the freshmen during initiation week, and dance at parties and the junior-senior proms; and we wait breathlessly for class rings, yearbooks, and graduation day. These and many other activities we share with high school pupils from Maine to California.

Similar as our school life is to that in the United States, however, our living in a foreign country holds added interests. Our outlook broadens and our understanding of other peoples increases through our knowledge of their histories, languages, customs, and laws. Geography means more when the English Channel, the Seine, the Rhine, and the Mediterranean are no longer just names on a map. History becomes a colorful pageant when we explore the Tower of London, an ancient Roman Camp in Germany, a crusaders castle in Turkey, the gardens of Versailles, or the ruins of a once lovely, ancient city in Libya or Morocco. As we become better acquainted overseas, we can help strengthen the bonds of friendship and peace among freedom loving peoples, now while as junior ambassadors we live among our new friends, and in later years when we assume adult responsibilities in the United States.

Skimming through these pages of Vapor Trails in days to come will bring to mind recollections of school days, classroom scenes, and friends overseas. We shall recall the pleasure of making a mercury barometer in the science laboratory, the thrill of cheering for the team, and the excitement of planning a school dance. We shall also remember eating hot, buttered scones beside an English fire, buying trinkets in exotic Eastern bazaars with the sun blazing down upon us, mailing souvenir cards to ourselves and our friends from the tiny post office at the top of the Eiffel Tower, trekking through the Black Forest in Lederhosen, or watching the great black camels swaying along dusty desert roads. Crowded with many memories, our 1959 Vapor Trails is a book to be cherished — always.

MEMBERS OF THE GRADUATING CLASS:

I congratulate you upon completion of your high school studies at United States Air Forces in Europe schools. As junior members of the widespread USAFE community you have had a unique opportunity to enrich your education through direct contact with peoples and countries sometimes similar, but often vastly different, from our own.

As a result you have a greater awareness of the new and vast responsibilities that the United States has assumed in the world in recent years.

America is a new country when compared to any of those in which you have been living. Every nation touched by USAFE operations has a rich historical past reaching back to ages so remote that to think of them puts our briefer American tradition into new perspective.

While our country could once live apart in the world, in the space age we cannot escape the responsibilities of being a great nation. People who were remote strangers in foreign lands a decade ago are now our next door neighbors. We must find ways of getting along with these people, of appreciating their customs and traditions and of being sympathetic to their problems.

You young people now graduating are our future America. You will be taking your knowledge of foreign lands back home with you and you will be able to use it when, as adults and voters, you are called upon to make decisions affecting the fortunes of our country.

My best wishes to each of you.

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1959

The time has come for you to bid farewell to teachers, friends and associates of your high school. Many of you will continue your schooling and others will begin a career. The fine education that has been provided you by the United States Air Forces in Europe should spur you on to greater undertakings.

By living in a foreign country during your senior year, you have had the opportunity of making friends with students of your host nation, taking advantage of cultural aspects, and observing the customs, thereby, gaining a better understanding of the people, the history and the problems of the country. You have had the opportunity to travel to other foreign countries and see many important historical sights of the past and present day. You have also served as junior ambassadors for America by your example depicting the life of the youth of our country.

I sincerely wish you happiness during the coming years and the best of luck in your chosen careers. Work hard, be sincere, and success will be yours. You are the future leaders of America, a country in which we are all proud to live . . . make sure that America can always be proud of you!

CENTRAL—a school

Who says we don't have facilities?!

A way out!

Don't judge a book by its cover!

Command Decisions!

Prior to the summer of 1942, the Bushy Park Air Force Base area was the Royal Deer Park of the Hampton Court Palace. At this time, the Eighth Air Force, a unit of the Army Air Forces, set up its Headquarters in what is now referred to as "A" Block. By August, the Eighth Air Force Service Command, a sub-unit of the Eighth Air Force, was installed in the newly completed "B" Block, which is now the High School building. "C" and "D" Blocks, present day Elementary School and dormitory areas, were finished one year later.

In January, 1944, General Dwight D. Eisenhower was designated Supreme Commander of the Allied Expeditionary Forces, and established his Headquarters at Bushy Park. This organization, known as SHAEF, occupied "C" and "D" Blocks, and certain outlying buildings, some of which have now disappeared. The Eighth Air Force organizations previously mentioned were redesignated as Headquarters United States Strategic Air Force in Europe, and Headquarters of the Air Service Command, respectively. Shortly after D-Day, in June 1944, all these Headquarters moved to France.

Bushy took on the aspect of a miniature Grand Central Station. Among the group of VIPs were such famous people as Churchill, George VI, Field Marshal Lord Montgomery, General Spaatz, General Patton, Lord Tedder, General De Gaulle, and many others.

with a history!

Mmmm — AFEX!

... and more AFEX

The base was reputed to be number two on the priority list of Nazi bombing targets, second only to the Houses of Parliament, and as a result, was getting many little presents from the sky. We are inclined to regard the bomb shelters around the base as part of the scenery, but in 1944, base personnel took a different view. There were always the V-1 pilotless bombs that flew overhead. Fortunately, they never hit the base, but there were several near misses.

After the war, the base was returned to the British. Seven years ago, the old buildings, "B" and "C" Blocks, were converted into Dependents School, and Central High was "born". The school had a cafeteria, which had been one of the old wartime Officers' Messes. "D" Block became the "home away from home" for our dormitory students. The school has still not stopped growing, and every year, in September, we find workmen feverishly trying to finish new rooms or repairing electrical circuits. During the first three years, even the teachers helped the workers. By 1958 the school had 601 students, and the old NCO Club, formerly at one end of the building, was converted into a new school wing. This year students returned to find a new locker room and a "Tom Thumb PX" installed and waiting.

Central has come a long way since 1951. The situation seems to improve constantly. We don't mean to boast, but Centralites feel that "our school" is absolutely tops!

For "afters" we have the "Tom Thumb PX"

We also have a library—used at times by Seniors

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

When the 1959 Seniors descended upon Central High this year with the evergreen slogan, "There's gonna' be some changes made", they found that they had been "beaten to the draw" by the faculty. Under an entirely new administration and several new teachers, the school year had a good beginning, and improved rapidly as the class organized itself by electing officers and committee chairmen.

Events began to pile on top of one another and before you could say "Merry Christmas" — it was there. After Christmas vacation the second semester began to slip away with both school work (remember those terrible Government reports?) and money-making activities for the class trip. Among these the play was primary and with everyone working so hard on it, the production was bound to be a success. Raffle tickets, cake sales, and magazine subscriptions all played their part in raising that green crinkly stuff that will see us well on our way to glorious Rome.

The Seniors have had a large part in the running of the school this year, too, as three of the Student Council officers are seniors. Also our own class officers, President Fred Milburn, Vice-President Jean Lack, Secretary Virginia Gelling, and Treasurer Marty Terpening, deserve a hand for doing a very difficult job well.

Now with graduation just around the corner, we can afford to look back with usual pride all Seniors feel at the culmination of four years "hard labor", pat ourselves on the back just a little, and thank Heaven we made it!

Juniors

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

It's been a good year for Central's Juniors, despite the dubious pleasures of the chem lab, Henry David Thoreau, and the Civil War. It was more or less a changeover year, with the arrival of so many new faculty members and students, and a whole new wing added to the building.

The student participation in class elections was more enthusiastic than ever, and this active interest continued on all year long. Our Junior Class Officers, Wendy Johnson, Steve Kendall, Judy Walcavitch, and Rick Wheeler, did an excellent job.

The big problem was, as usual, how to make money for the various activities. In addition to the regular cake sales, dances, and variety show, we tried something new, selling plastic-coated bookcovers in the school colors. The Ways and Means Committee took pity on starving town students, and sold snacks to them on the buses.

Anyone wandering into the Junior Review rehearsals in March will find himself in a model television studio. This year's production is to be a satire on a famous television variety show, and the cast is working hard to make it a good one. We don't mean to boast, but Ed Sullivan, himself, might gain a few pointers.

The Junior-Senior Prom will be here before people have time to get the greasepaint out of their systems. The plans are wonderful, as usual, and a fitting climax to the year. Then it will be June, and vacation time.

These are only the highlights. There were countless other little things which made 1959 a memorable year for the juniors. Keep it up, Central!

Sophomores

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

The Sophomore class started this year by electing officers and organizing committees with the help of Miss McFadden and Mr. Casper, our sponsors. Norman Alm was elected President; Lee Alton, Vice-President; Barbara Eckels, Secretary; and Janet Clark, Treasurer. Our first activity, a "Dues Dance", was held in the cafeteria during December. The class play, a comedy titled "Say It with Flowers", will be presented to the school under the direction of Mr. Little. We are also planning a spring semiformal dance at West Ruislip in April, and an ice skating party in May.

Freshmen

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

For their first year in high school, the freshmen elected very capable officers for their class. Lyn Morehouse is President; Rick Bohner, Vice-President; Donna Smith, Secretary; and Judy Pierson, Treasurer.

Fog curtailed many of the scheduled activities, so it was Christmas before the class could get together as a whole and enjoy a successful dance, which was held in the Home-Ec room. The class has been giving enthusiastic support to its Valentines's Dance Sweetheart candidate, Katherine O'Connor, and it is hoped that she will be victorious. Future events include a proposed "Open House", when the freshmen will play hosts to all prospective "Frosh" coming over from the various junior high schools. We have enjoyed being freshmen, but we can't help looking forward to the day when we will attain the illustrious status of being sophomores.

To one of the sweetest & most popular girls in the dorm who has a wonderful life ahead of her.

Lots of Luck & I'll remember you always

About Our Home Away From Home

Because of the population increases of Thames Hall, a new annex was added during the summer.

Accordingly, on September 4th, we arrived with our suitcases stuffed with cheese crackers (for the mice), bermuda shorts, four or five pictures of the summer's boy friend, and a year's supply of intellectual reading material, i. e., True Romance.

Our supervisors welcomed us at the door, ate some cheese crackers, admired our boy friends' pictures, and at the end of the day Miss Gallagher, Miss Corton, and Mrs. Grace were the possessors of 634 copies of True Romance.

Our Dormitory Administrator, Miss Honaker, welcomed us officially that night and told us about the dormitory program for the year.

During the first week, we were little angels, and therefore, early birds; a week later, a girl considered herself lucky if she got up by 8:15 AM (morning announcements).

In October, our dormitory council officers were elected. In addition to our very excellent President, Judy Buning; Judy Samms was elected Vice-President; Brenda Hickman, Secretary; and Nancy Carder, Treasurer. Virginia Ersch was elected Judge of the Judiciary Council. There are 13 girls on this student-operated court.

Our supervisors regularly arrange shopping and theater tours for us. Besides movies and dances, ice skating and swimming parties are weekly routine for girls who are interested.

At the beginning of the year, all juniors and seniors become big sister to a freshman or sophomore. The upperclassmen help their little sisters with their problems, even though the older girls sometimes can't solve their own.

Our home away from home is providing us with experiences we won't easily forget.

Hampton Hall, with seven wings and an annex (newly added), is home for 160 boys at Bushy Park.

The administration underwent a change this year as Mr. Glenn Noble became the dormitory administrator. Under his direction, Mr. Munro, the head supervisor, and the other supervisors, Mr. Slater, Mr. Churchill, Mr. Schwartz, Mr. Joyce, Mr. Houston, Mr. Leighton, and Mr. Pickstock do their best to keep the boys occupied and out of mischief. To help in this worthy project, several dormitory activities have been in operation since the beginning of the year. Mr. Houston coaches the Rugby team; Mr. Slater, the Soccer team; and the Coach takes care of the football, basketball, etc. For recreation, we have movies and dances almost every week, and a teenage club which is open certain hours every day.

The seven wings are divided into the various classes—freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior; consequently, there is always inter-wing rivalry. Many times out and out “warfare” develops, but the older boys usually win.

One favorite trick trick of the younger members is to steal the mascot or plaque from the junior or senior wing and display it proudly in their own wing . . . at least for a little while. At 7:15 every morning, you are likely to hear grumbles and complaints loudly voiced as the rising bell awakens the boys to a new day; and by 7:30 the blare of radios and record players drowns out all conversation.

The most sacred and fought over place in the dormitory is the telephone in the main hall, by which the girls’ dorm may be contacted.

The student government of the dormitory consists of the House Council, which makes the rules of the dormitory, and the Student Court, which handles any infringement of the rules.

Several times during the year our supervisors take us to London to shows or plays; and it is traditional to go on a three-day camp out near the end of the year.

There are two, three, and four men rooms, (the senior wing has five to a room) and the beginning of the year is always hectic with everyone’s moving about trying to get into a room with his friends. After the way of life settles down, the one prayer in the heart of every dorm member is that a fog day will soon come, and many, many times you can hear someone offering prayers to the great Fog God, hoping to influence him.

The biggest highlights of the year are the few and far between times when we have an open house, and can bring the girls over to proclaim . . . “This is my room”.

Cheerleaders

November 13 was the climax of several weeks' hard work by the ten girls who were trying out for cheerleading. This top ten had been chosen earlier by the faculty and some of the Senior Class Officers. The girls practiced faithfully, and often during 6th period, the school yells could be heard resounding through the halls. But at last came election day. Karen Kurtz, Noel Ahlbum, Doree Coleman, Jackie Bland, and Janet Bode were the five lucky finalists; Barbara McClosky was chosen to be the alternate.

Girls' Athletic Association

This club is an organization for all girls interested in sports, and there are sixty girls under the supervision of Miss Williams.

The main objectives of the girls are to earn points for a school emblem through participation in athletic events and to raise money for the G.A.A. For example, the girls vs. faculty volleyball game offered points for the players, money for the G.A.A. and hilarious entertainment for the student body.

Some sports participated in during the second semester included pingpong and bowling tournaments.

Let's face it — they got class!

Defying the Law of gravity

Pep Club

The Central High Pep Club consists of sixty members. The officers are Libby Estes, President; Carol Farmer, Vice-President; Elsa Colman, Treasurer; and Ann Nagle, Secretary. Miss Gussie Williams is the sponsor. The objectives of the Pep Club are to promote school spirit, and to give our teams moral support. The Club is also sponsoring various projects to finance the basketball team's trip to the tournament in Germany. These include a shoe-shine project, pickle sales, and selling refreshments at the games.

Aw — they're beating us!

Basketball

The basketball season started a bit later than usual this year. Coach Lewis believes that the season starting late should enable the team to reach their peak for the European High School tournament in Germany. The Bobcats will have their hands full this year playing experienced squadron teams. We are confident that they will succeed in making this their best year, though. Although there were few returning lettermen, Coach Lewis has shaped the potential into a fighting ball club.

Lettermen Club

This year, for the first time in Central's history, the Lettermen, in varsity sports, are given their place of honor in the schools' club program. Under the leadership of Mr. Taylor Lewis, the club has done much to support athletics at Central.

The Constitution was drafted by a select committee and approved by the Lettermen's Club as a whole.

The first fund-raising campaign of the club was a volleyball game between the faculty members and the lettermen. The game was a great success but due to weather conditions the faculty won. The next and biggest campaign was the sale of booster tickets to build up the athletic fund, and we are well on our way of reaching our goal of one thousand dollars.

Soccer

This year the Soccer team which contains several of last year's lettermen, should be very successful in its regular school matches. However, our schedule with the local schools has not yet begun and we have been playing nearby amateurs.

Football

Stand back! They may explode!

Although this is the first year that Central High has been able to have a football team, it was a very successful season. The competition was pretty stiff as they played G. I. squadron teams. This did not daunt the game Centralites, however, for they finished the season with a fine record; 5 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie. Coach Taylor Lewis taught the boys a new type of football. Most of the boys were used to playing tackle, but he converted them to fine flag football players. Central is sure to have an even better football team next year.

Keep cool boys — real cool!

Rugby

The Bushy Park Rugby team is the only American Rugby team in Europe. The fifteen Central High students who compose this team play against British teams that are sometimes skeptical about Americans playing the English sport. After the game is over, however, every team has to admit that the Americans are not a team to be laughed at.

A statement made by the sports editor of the Rugby Observer supports this by saying: "After scoring a total of 100 points without being scored against, Bourne Secondary Modern School received a severe jolt when they found themselves losing 8—5 at half time to Central High from Bushy Park. To make matters more embarrassing to the Bourne team, the Americans were playing with only fourteen men."

Mr. Houston is the man who does the coaching.

Student Council

President: Mike Hall

Vice-President: Bob Ruffin

Even more enthusiasm than usual was shown in the campaign and election of Student Council officers and representatives this year. The school had grown; there were many new students, several new faculty members, and a new administration, and it was evident that there were things to be done, so, of course, the student body wanted the best representatives available.

The first election resulted in a tie between Mike Hall and Bob Stephenson for President; Mike won the revote. Bob Ruffin was elected Vice-President; Anita Sewell, Secretary; and Barbara McClosky, Treasurer. Working with Lieutenant Colonel Rogers, the Base Commander, and Mr. Matthews, the Principal, the Student Council has tried to improve conditions around the school. They also arranged to have the Teen Club open during the lunch periods, and organized a Teen Club patrol. The Student Council lent their assistance to those who were raising money to send the basketball team to the tournament. Included in their fund raising activities were the raffle of a portable radio, and the sale of student directories.

One of the highlights on the social calendar for the second semester is, of course, "Twirp Day".

“High scholarship, worthy service, energetic leadership”

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to give recognition to the students who have excelled in Scholarship, Leadership, Service, and the development of Character.

To qualify, a student must maintain at least a B average. It also is necessary for a person to attend Central High School for at least one semester before he is eligible to become a member of NHS.

The officers for 1958—59 are: President, Fred Milburn; Vice-President, John Wiles; Secretary, Charlotte Biggers; and Treasurer, Elaine Lewis. The faculty sponsor is Miss Sutton.

The Fall and Spring induction ceremonies are red letter days on the NHS calendar, as is the field trip which is usually taken during the second semester.

Photography Club

Photographers being photographed — and loving it?!

The Photography Club, one of Central's "technical" clubs, is tucked back in Room 117. It is sponsored by Mr. Billington and has one officer, Steve Gosling, who acts as President, Vice-President, Treasurer, Secretary, and chief cook and bottle washer.

The club's many activities include developing and printing negatives, discussing the pros and cons of Polaroid cameras, and different types of flash bulbs. We also hold a photography contest for the school.

Anyone passing the small bulletin board near 117 can see some of the club's work. The pictures displayed there are for sale. The aim of the club is to learn the art of taking good pictures.

Personal Typing

Do you know what cylinder knobs, line-space gauges, and carriage releasers are? Mr. Bernardi's busy Personal Typing Club is finding out — and fast!

Slowly but surely, we learned the keys and by practicing the lessons assigned in the typing books, we finally began to resemble a typist.

The aim of the club is in its name — we want to learn to type!

Record Club

The club got off to a good start under the capable supervision of Miss Fenimore. Officers elected at the second meeting were: President, Dave Sellars; Vice-President, Maureen Whitman; Treasurer, Frank Schrieber; and Secretary, Joyce Vickers.

As soon as he was elected, the treasurer began collecting weekly dues to be used for various activities during the year.

The club's main purpose is to listen to and discuss various kinds of music and different recording artists and styles.

Club members are planning a dance in the near future.

Junior Red Cross

This year, with Miss McFadden as sponsor, the Red Cross Club has been searching for ways to obtain money for a school chest. At the moment, we are busy with cookie sales from which we hope to obtain money to buy supplies for the chest. At the same time, together with the British Red Cross, we are planning a party for a spastics home.

Officers of the club are: President, John Hoberg; Vice-President, Alan Anderson; Treasurer, Brenda Hickman; and Secretary, Lynn Thomas.

The club includes a representative from each homeroom. Members of the club have received pins and badges.

German Club

Mr. Folley and Associates

The German Club is a relatively small club of about six members. At meetings, we listen to German records, talk about customs and habits, and see films concerning Germany. We have a library of about a dozen German magazines which are at the disposal of any member of the club. In the near future we plan to venture into London to see a German film or play.

The club is sponsored by Mr. Folley. The officers are Dennis Schurter, President and Otto Wyse, Treasurer.

Latin Club

The Latin Club consists of a dozen students this year. Under the guidance of Miss Fenimore they are attempting to learn more about the history of this interesting language.

In order to thoroughly learn a language you must become acquainted with its background, this is the main objective of the Latin Club. Reports are given each week on the different aspects of Roman life, and some field trips have been planned.

Miss Fenimore and Members

French Club

"We love Paris" may well be inscribed upon the coat of arms of the French Club. Under the supervision of Mr. Guy Mitchell, the members find themselves appreciating the colorful aspects of French life, e. g. food, perfume, fashions, as well as the more profound testimonials to French civilization e. g. the Louvre, the Arch of Triumph, Champs Elysees, Comedie Francaise, and the glories that are French, and more specifically, Parisian. In the meantime, the "joie de vivre" of our French Club is expressed by means of records, magazine articles, and the uninhibited practice of the somewhat fractured accents asking "Avez-vous la plume de ma tante?"

Spanish Club

The object of the Spanish Club is to learn more about the culture of Spain. Spanish magazines are bought almost every week, and plans are in progress for a trip to a Spanish restaurant.

One of the more ambitious projects of the Club is to take a trip to Spain in April or May, so that we can get first-hand knowledge of the Spanish way of life.

Mr. Folley is the Spanish Club sponsor. Dave Leaner is the President; Mercedes Kelly, Treasurer; Carol Chrones, Assistant Treasurer, and Sandy Kleuh, Secretary.

Second Semester

This is the first year for the Rocket Club, and with the help of Mr. Abell, the Commander, and the U. S. Air Force, the club has begun several group projects.

The club plans to launch at least one successful rocket, and later an instrumented one.

So far they have made a lot of progress, and if the club finishes out the year as planned, next year should promise interesting developments.

Beginning Science

The future scientists of America are well represented in Central High's Beginning Science Club. The Club is divided into several committees, each one working on projects concerning different phases of science. For example, the electronics committee made an electric generator, while the medical committee experimented with germ cultures. The Club's officers are Mike Oldham, President; Pete Henry, Vice-President; and Robin Todd, Secretary-Treasurer. The Club is under Mr. Tampke's able sponsorship.

Math Club

Needless to say, the members of the Math Club are "A" or at least "B" students. This is probably one of the contributing factors to the size of this organization. Mrs. Bidleman, who sponsors the club, also teaches Solid and Plane Geometry and Trigonometry. At present, the club is working on models, such as building geometric figures and constructions.

Model Airplane Club

The Model Airplane Club, sponsored by Mr. Massey, consists of thirty-four members, including the officers. Lee Alton is President; Bob Hornsby, Vice-President; and Jim Crain, Secretary.

Members use the playground for flying their models. Those who do not own planes use the club's models, and learn techniques from members who have had previous experience.

Members of the Club use the school woodshop to build models, but the club has its own tools, fuel, and battery.

Chess Club

On activities day silence is king as the thirty members of the Chess Club ponder their way out of a trap or cunningly plotted strategy. The Chess Club, newly organized this year, chose Jerry Lane as President, Robert Sherman as Vice-President, George Phillips as Secretary, and William Donovan as Treasurer. The club is sponsored by Mr. Little.

Opening of the Teen Club

Getting ready to cut-up

October 27th, 1958, was a red letter day for Central High. At 4:00 P. M. Lieutenant Colonel Frank Rodgers, Base Commander cut the ribbon and officially opened the Bushy Park Teen Age Club.

After the mad rush subsided, Colonel Rodgers and Mr. Matthews stepped behind the snack bar and served ice cream to the students. Hamburgers and hotdogs were on sale for the hungry ones. To add to the excitement, the eager Coke machine threatened to drown everyone in carbonated water until the pressure was turned down!

The club, now open during lunch periods and after school, is a popular place.

Drama Club

This year the Drama Club has fifty members. The officers are as follows: President, Jean Lack; Vice-President, Rusty Hockett; Treasurer, Rick Wheeler; and Secretary, Janice Steuben. The Club is sponsored by Mr. Rubin and Mr. Wernette.

The Club presented the play, Sorry, Wrong Number. Mr. Wernette coached the cast. Mr. Rubin conducted a drama laboratory, where students discussed techniques of acting and performed in brief scenes.

Students also attended several plays at London theaters.

Mr. Law will be using the megaphone while the Senior Class prepares for production You Can't Take It with You, a comedy in 3 acts by George Kaufman and Moss Hart. The student director (the fellow who carries the megaphone) will be Bob Stephenson. The stellar cast includes Marion Pratt, Virginia Gelling, Carl Chatfield, John Henry, Scott McLaughlin, Doris Hayes, Fred Milburn, Dick Hesse, John Baker, Edward Robinson, Alex Schneider, Sue Sweeney, Steve King, Georgann Coleman, Bob Ruffin, Jerry Hoffman, Mike Hall and Charlotte Biggers. The Plot — the adventures, or rather misadventures of an eccentric but lovable family.

"Christmas By Candlelight"

The annual Christmas Formal in London was given this year by a new host, the West Ruislip Teen Age Club. The decor in the club's beautiful ballroom was softly suggestive of an evening just for two, in keeping with the "Christmas By Candlelight" theme of the dance. A real dash of English color was added by the presence of the Toastmaster, who began the evening by formally announcing each couple to the club president, Julie Williams, and her escort, and to Mr. and Mrs. Oberg, club sponsors.

Other highlights of the evening were a delicious 5-course dinner and entertainment from two of the top popular T. V. shows in England. Later, our cheerful Toastmaster was back again to crown Judy Tucker, Queen of the Dance and to present Sharon Zink and Julie Williams, her attendants, with bouquets. Much . . . much later (also much to the general regret) he called "last dance of the evening".

Newspaper

The staff of the HIGH TIMES has the responsible job of keeping Centralites informed about inter-school activities and events taking place in the London area. The paper comes out each month, and between publications the staff can be seen hurriedly gathering information for feature articles, editorials, and columns. Emily Lane has proved to be a very efficient Editor in Chief, and Pat Phillips does an admirable job of supporting her as Assistant Editor. Miss Martin is the club sponsor, and supervises the complicated work involved in producing a newspaper.

"All the news that's fit to print"

Hall Patrol

Ray Chorney and Anne Hallowell are the two Seniors in charge of the Hall Patrol. They have put a lot of time and work into organizing the group of students on duty so that the system works smoothly and efficiently.

There are six posts in the building and all are manned during the two lunch periods. At other times, only four are in operation. The objective of the patrol is to cut noise to a minimum so that classes are not disturbed while in session.

Through the cooperation of both student body and faculty members, we feel that this objective has been achieved.

Central's Music Makers

Music to sooth the "savage" Centralites is provided by both the Band and Chorus, under the able direction of Maestro Vincent Stranieri. The Band led the Hallowe'en Parade for the Elementary School, and both Band and Chorus have hit the right notes for the Christmas assembly. Music Night, a spring concert, is next on the agenda.
